

P R E S S K I T

Speaker, Connector, and Author, Tasha Eizinger.

About Tasha

Do you need a little help remembering how to pursue your dreams in this tricky world? Do you need more inspiration to follow your heart? Tasha Eizinger, Author, Connector, and Speaker is here for you.

As a former teacher and entrepreneur who has since transitioned to an author of a children's book series and sought-after public speaker, Tasha has presented to both adults and children in the realm of following your aspirations. Whether you're looking for a keynote speaker, an author visit for your school, a workshop for your employees, or something different, Tasha can help you and those around you learn how to follow your dreams.

Interview topics

Networking: Mastering Connections for Success

- Build genuine relationships rather than transactional connections.
- Maintain the connection through effective follow-up.
- View networking as a mindset shift rather than just a skill set.

From Manuscript to Money: Turning Your Book into a Business

- Explore different revenue streams beyond book sales.
- Build an effective team.
- Create the foundation of your business.

Resilience Revolution: Building a Life that Bounces Back

- Defining resilience in today's world.
- Develop mental strength and adaptability with practical techniques.
- Resilience as a business owner.

Dream Chasers: Taking the Leap from Vision to Reality

- Know what you truly want.
- Overcome fear.
- Build a support system.

Follow on Social
@tashaeizinger

Workshops & Presentations

Unlocking Your Potential: Mastering Resilience for Success

Audience: Adults

Length: 60 minute keynote that can be adapted for the event's time constraints

Where: Your choice of location

What: This presentation will help attendees feel confident in overcoming barriers and achieving their dreams. Suddenly, all the challenges they're facing will transform into opportunities for growth. We all have a story of resilience and sometimes need to be reminded of our potential. Full of compelling stories that connect to people's hearts, this presentation will inspire the audience and give them practical tips on how to realign the direction of their lives long after the event is over.

Cultivating Courage Through Your Story Presentation

Audience: Adults

Length: A single 45-minute session (presentation-style) or eight sessions (workshop format) for those who want to dig deeper.

Where: Your choice of location

What: Cultivating Courage Through Your Story is an opportunity to be encouraged and reminded of your own bravery and courage. Build a courage quilt, step-by-step, while being empowered to remember who you are and who you can be. Tasha will walk you through reflecting on your life's journey to this present moment. How have you been brave? Where do you see your courage? You will have the opportunity to reflect on life's little moments of bravery and create a visual reminder to take home.

Price: For pricing, please contact Tasha Eizinger.

School Assembly

Audience: Children/Schools

Length: 2-3 Hours

Where: Assembly or presentation at your school

What: This presentation varies based on grade level and school leader decisions. This includes an assembly-style presentation, book reading, Q&A, and a possible behind-the-scenes at book publishing for older children.

Price: Ranges from $750-$2,000 depending upon the number of sessions chosen.

Check out these examples of presentations:

★ Assets for promotion

We welcome press coverage of Tasha's speaking, authoring, and connecting. Find all of the information you need for press coverage here.

Quote

"Living life to the fullest and helping others do the same." - Tasha Eizinger

Bio

Tasha Eizinger
Speaker, Author, Connector

Tasha's life has been a journey full of adventures that help her connect with people of all ages. Tasha's early career included teaching, overcoming an illness, and Network Marketing. It was during this early stage that she discovered a love for entrepreneurship and public speaking. As a new parent, she began writing a book to inspire her daughter to dream big and live courageously, which later turned into The Little Shot Series.

Now, Tasha combines her passion for teaching and motivational speaking with her love of encouraging others to engage audiences across the country with practical tips and heartfelt encouragement during her talks and presentations.

Tasha's
Headshot

Tasha's
Logo

Tasha's
Full Bio

What people are saying:

"Tasha's approach to teaching foundational habits with life-long benefits is authentic, compelling, and aspirational. Her down-to-earth demeanor is relatable and you can easily find a personal connection to your own story in her message."

- Kelly Bell, Executive Director The Midwest Clinic International Band and Orchestra Conference

"Tasha engaged the kids and talked with them. She didn't just read a book and leave. It was a memorable experience for them."

- Sara Kaczynski, Teacher

"Tasha Eizinger presents a series of powerful presentations that deliver motivational messages to all attendees at every age. She weaves fun and stories throughout and leaves her audiences wanting more."

- Jackie Walker, Author, Keynote Speaker, Content Creator

"Very few speakers can draw you into their story while inspiring you to live your story better. Tasha is one of those speakers. She shares her own experiences – both good and bad – in a way that makes you feel like you're sitting down for coffee with a friend."

- Julia Pearson, CEO Stratos Creative Marketing

Do you have questions or ready to book Tasha?

Contact Tasha Today!